RISE ABOVE THE FRAY
&
SHINE TO SHOW THE WAY

RISE ABOVE THE FRAY OF DISCOURAGEMENT.

How have your first couple of days of camp been going? Getting with the program? Or Feeling out of it all? It doesn't matter if you are a new camper or a veteran, every camp is different, and sometimes it just doesn't seem to be what we expected. In fact, it's downright discouraging!

Discouragement is a strange animal.

1. Actually it can be beneficial, if we use it constructively. We need to think to ourselves, "Why am I discouraged?" "What can I do about it?" (There is usually always something that we can do, if we consider it!)
2. On the other hand, discouragement can be dangerous if we allow ourselves to wallow around in it. (Unfortunately, when we are discouraged, that is usually what we want to do.)

Today, we can rise above it!
How?

That's a good question, and everyone may have a different answer, but a couple of good answers may be:

1. Ask for help from your counselor, another staff person, or even another camper.
2. Better still-- Ask for help from God!

"Ask and you shall receive, Seek and you will find, Knock and it will be opened unto you."
